

Instructions to Authors

Any employee of any Lithuanian or foreign higher school, research institution or industrial enterprise can send his or her article to "Geologija" collected papers, if the article deals with new scientific or serious applied problems.

The articles in Lithuanian, English, Russian and other languages are accepted. If the article is in English, two summaries in Lithuanian and in Russian should be presented; if the paper is in Lithuanian, summaries in English and Russian are desirable. The article commonly should not exceed 0.5 printer's sheet (11 manuscript pages with figures), but exceptions are possible.

Structure of an article.

The title of the article should be printed in capital letters, starting from the left margin. The author's first and second name in small letters go after the title at the left margin. The right side of the sheet should contain the bibliography of the article in English, i. e. the author(s)' family name, initials, title of the article, place and year of publication, journal number (No.), pages (P.), ISSN, abstract, key words, dates when the article was received and accepted, corresponding author's address. The text should be printed double-spaced (Microsoft Word, Times New Roman 12-point typeface). Subtitles are desirable.

References in the text should be put in parentheses, indicating the author's name and year of publication. The list of references should be made in alphabetical order. The titles of the references are given in the original language, starting with the Latin alphabet, then followed by Cyrillic, and vice versa, if the article is presented in Russian, e. g.:

Brett C. E., Boucot A. J. and Jones B. 1993. Absolute depths of Silurian benthic assemblages. Lethaia. 26 (1). 25–40.

Grigelis A. A. 1993. Geological time from the view-point of regional stratigraphy. Lietuvos aukštųjų mokyklų mokslo darbai. Geologija. 14. 6–17.

Holland C. H. 1989. Principles of Silurian stratigraphical classification. History. Classification. In: Holland C. H., Basset M. G. (eds.). Global Standard for the Silurian System. National Museum of Wales. Geological Ser. 9. 7–26.

Paškevičius J. 1994. Baltijos respublikų geologija. Vilnius: Valstybinis leidybos centras. 447 p.

Мяньиль Р. М. 1966. История развития Балтийского бассейна в ордовике. Таллин: Валгус. 224 с.

Figures include photographs and shaded drawings, which must be compact and fit for reproduction. Drawings must be distinct, made in Indian ink or printed out on a laser printer, greyscale, unless otherwise agreed in advance. The colour version may be presented directly for the electronic version of the paper. Their format should not exceed A4 size; in case of reduction, the size of drawings should be 17 × 24 cm, 11 × 14 cm or even less to fit an 8 cm column. Linear scale should be applied for maps and sketches. Inscriptions in the drawings should be made by computer in printing characters. Figure legends should be presented on a separate sheet. Tables should be printed out on separate pages, numbered and titled.

Two copies of the article should be presented. Manuscript is not returned to the author. Proofs for corrections are sent only once.

Members of the Editorial Board supervise the following branches of geological researches:

Prof. Dr. Habil. V. Baltrūnas – Quaternary geology, geoecology;

Prof. Dr. Kastytis Dundulis – engineering geology;

Prof. Dr. Habil. A. Grigelis – marine geology, stratigraphy;

Prof. Dr. Habil. V. Juodkazis – hydrogeology;

Prof. Dr. Habil. A. Jurgaitis – sedimentology, raw mineral materials, economic geology;

Prof. Dr. Habil. R. Mokrikas – hydrogeology;

Doc. Dr. V. Kadūnas – mineralogy, geochemistry;

Doc. Dr. G. Motuza – petrology, Precambrian geology;

Prof. Dr. Habil. J. Paškevičius – stratigraphy, paleontology, regional geology;

Prof. Dr. Habil. P. Suveizdis – tectonics, geophysics;

Habil. Dr. S. Šliaupa – tectonics, sedimentology.

The articles are presented to the member of the Editorial Board who supervises the branch under consideration. Each article is sent to an expert for a critical review, and then the board member decides whether the paper is fit for publication.

Subscription orders should be sent (by foreign customers) to:

Lithuanian Academy of Sciences Publishers,

Gedimino pr. 3, LT-01103 Vilnius, Lithuania.

E-mail: leidykla@lma.lt

Annual subscription price (4 issues, postage included): EUR 92,–